Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only expensive, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are benefited, but few can safely return. Eckman's Alternative is effective for home treatment. For example:

231 E. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J.

Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold, which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise spittle, and my physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alternative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now five years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alternative too highly. I have recommended it with excellent results.

LETTER TO EMPLOYERS.
PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 7.—Governor Woodrow Wilson reached Pueblo at 8:30 o'clock this morning and was received by Governor Shafroth and candidates of the Democratic state ticket. He devoted his speech to labor questions, but before beginning to speak he gave out for publication the following letter which he said had been forwarded to him from Democratic National headquarters as having been circulated by Charles D. Hilles, Republican national chairman, and his employers of labor throughout the country:

"If the November election results in the choice of a Democratic congress and Democratic president, new tariff bills will be enacted at once. In other words, destructive Democratic tariff measures, such as President Taft vetoed at the last session, will become laws. Only one thing can prevent this, and that is a protest vote on the part of the American workingmen. They must choose between a high standard of living and that of the underpaid European workmen."

REVIEW CAREERS OF M'NAMARA BEFORE JURY IN THE EAST

one. Part of the cans were recovered by their owners.

Meanwhile James B. had gone to arrange for the Los Angeles Times exposure, after accomplishing which and hiding for two weeks in Salt Lake City, he returned East, began work in Nebraska by Frank Eckhoff of Cincinnati, and returned from John J. James B. said:

"I have been keeping pretty low. If I could get by for five years like J. E. Munsey of Salt Lake they'd forget about the Los Angeles affair. Coming back on the train yesterday I heard the speech of the Los Angeles Times exposé and I thought every one was looking at me. That's what made me get off at Salt Lake."

James B. and McManis then went hunting in the woods of Wisconsin to hide.

The next month at the iron workers convention in St. Louis, Twitmore had a talk with J. B. saying it was all right on the Pacific coast and they wanted some "Christmas presents" in the shape of blowing up the Llewellyn Iron Works, the Baker Iron Works and the Times machinery. McManis returned to Indianapolis. John J. told him of what Twitmore had said.

"It will be a great thing while they are looking for other fellows to take eight or ten more of them out there by somebody they never saw said John J. to McManis. "No one knows you and you can slip in and do the job. But don't use nitroglycerin. It isn't as safe as dynamite and you don't have to be so careful. Tell the old man (meaning Twitmore) he'll get his Christmas presents. He told me his friend, Mayor McCarthy, controls the police force and we'll be protected."

WROTE TO CLANCY.
After the Llewellyn Iron Works explosion on December 15, J. J. wrote to Eugene J. Clancy of San Francisco, "tell the old man his Christmas present has been delivered," and Twitmore wrote a letter to J. J. concluding, "trusting Santa Claus will be as generous to you with surprises and presents of the season as he has to us in the Golden State."

Charges against Clarence E. Dowd, Rochester, N. Y.; Charles Wachmeister, Detroit; Frank J. Murphy, Detroit; William K. Benson, now of East Galloway, N. Y.; Spurgeon P. Meadows, Indianapolis, and Hiram Cline, Mexico, Inc., involving unions other than the iron workers, were outlined by the district attorney. He said it would be shown that they all met in Detroit in 1911, "to have a wholesale blowing up," but that J. B. McManis hesitated about the job because there were many in on the deal. Cline and Meadows were officers of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and Dowd was a national organizer of the International Association of Machinists.

"A detective representing himself as a member of the sheet metal workers got into the deal," said Miller. "How are you going to blow up these places—where's the dynamite?" asked the detective.

"Why, we've got it right in town; brought it here on the train," answered Cline.

"You mean to say you brought it on a train along with women and children?"

"Of course, it's safe and easy," said Cline.

"No one will ever know of it."

A map of Detroit was prepared with five locations marked where explosions were to take place. McManis was sent to do the job and was given a list. McManis said: "There are only four on the list—where's the other places?"

McManis replied: "We are to throw a bomb aboard the porch of the home of a member of the Sheet Metal Workers' Association."

McManis and McManis were on their way to do the job in April, 1911, when they were arrested. When court adjourned until tomorrow, Miller had spoken for four days a total of twenty hours and had not yet gotten to the government's side of the case.

CHARLES R. CRANE AIDS BOTH WILSON AND LA FOLLETTE

manager of his campaign, covered his total expenses had been about $7,500 in his campaign for the Republican nomination.

Ogden L. Mills of New York, treasurer of the Republican committee in New York county, denied wholesale charges of fraud that had been made by Roosevelt leaders in New York. He presented to the committee records from different election districts which he said he thought indicated fraud on the part of many of the workers for the Republican delegates.

SIX WITNESSES.
Six witnesses were ready to testify when the Clapp committee investigating campaign funds resumed work today. They were Louis Hammett, Ogden Mills and Charles Edward Russell of New York, Charles R. Crane of Chicago, Matthew Hale of Boston, and former Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia.

Louis N. Hammett, president of the Association of Foreign Newspapers, testified concerning an advertising contract of $2,500 by the Roosevelt campaign for the New York primary fight.

John J. Hannan, secretary of Senator La Follette, referring to E. H. Hocker's statement that Crane had given $10,000 to the La Follette fund, said the only amount he knew of Crane giving above that entered in the account already presented was $2,500 included in the statement of the Chicago bureau and given to make up a deficit. "There were funds," he said, "in states with which he had nothing to do."

He mentioned H. N. Tucker of Courtney, N. D., Alfred L. Baker of Huron, S. D., and Thomas McCusker of Portland, Ore., as being among those who could account for expenditures not reported to the national headquarters.

SPECKELS MONEY HERE.
"The expenses of the California campaign," said the witness, "were borne largely by Rudolph Speckels, who made no accounting to me."

Senator Pomeroy called attention to the statement by Hocker that Crane had "up to a certain date given $70,000 to the La Follette campaign."

"There was no such amount contributed," said Mr. Hannan. He mentioned "personal contributions" made to Senator La Follette, one of $2,500 by his secretary.

Charles R. Crane testified he gave $25,000 to Senator La Follette's campaign and $10,000 to Governor Woodrow Wilson's fund before the Baltimore convention.

"Are there all the contributions you made to Senator La Follette or to Governor Wilson?" asked Senator Clapp.

"Yes, sir, all."

He said he gave the $10,000 for Governor Wilson to William F. McCombs, his manager, in two installments on March and April 20, 1912.

He denied having told Hocker he had contributed $75,000 to each.

"I just wanted to have one progressive succeed," said Crane. "I didn't care which one it was."

Crane said he had been attacked "throughout the West" during his campaign, "as head of the bath tub trust." He declared he had no connection with the organization.

AIDED TWO CANDIDATES.
"I could very well understand both Wilson and La Follette as both men are progressive," said Crane. "That I was contributing to both funds was known to the managers of the two campaigns. I made no secret of the fact."

When Charles Edward Russell, Socialist candidate for governor of New York, took the stand, Chairman Clapp read to him a report of one of his speeches in a New York paper, describing an alleged telephone conversation between J. P. Morgan and the White House during the 1908 campaign in which Morgan was asked for a $100,000 contribution to the Republican campaign fund. The published report said Wayne MacVeagh, former attorney general, was a witness to the conversation.

Mr. Russell said the story came to him in 1910 from Judson C. Waller, a manager of the campaign, who told him he had a story from MacVeagh.

Wallier, working at the reporters' table, was called to the stand and said MacVeagh had told him of being in Morgan's private office in October, 1908, that Morgan had been called by a telephone and was informed by J. P. Harriman wished to speak to him. Wallier testified MacVeagh told him that when Morgan returned from the telephone he said:

"What do you suppose that man in the White House wants? It seems that Harriman has got off doing there in Washington and dined with him, and now he comes back and says that the President wants him to raise more campaign funds. He has given $50,000 and now he wants me to give $50,000."

MacVeagh, according to the witness, told him that Morgan wrote a check for $100,000 which he sent to Harriman's office.

TAFT ACCOUNTING.
Ogden L. Mills, treasurer of the Taft organization in New York state primary, testified that he had produced an accounting of money paid to him by the National Taft league for the New York primaries. He said the largest expenditure was for detectives to prevent fraudulent voting. He said the eastern branch of the National Taft league was organized by Timothy J. Woodruff raised about $24,000 spent in the primary fight. Mills raised $7,500.

Mills denied a statement credited to E. H. Hocker, Progressive treasurer at New York that $80,000 votes were cast for Roosevelt delegates in the New York primaries and were not counted.

"The polls were fully manned by Roosevelt watchers," he said, "and Mr. Roosevelt got as many as 15,000 votes."

Two weeks before the primary, he said, reports were made to him of alleged bribery by the Taft forces to induce voters to deliver votes to Roosevelt, but he did not verify any of these.

Mr. Mills gave the committee figures and poll books from the precincts from the eighth assembly district and said investigation of the district vote by many districts had shown much of it to be fraudulent.

In one district he said a man who had his leg amputated on election day was recorded as having voted. In the fourth election district the record showed that the usual 100 votes cast were cast in perfect alphabetical order.

Mr. Mills was exposed and the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

Just before adjournment Senator Pomeroy asked Mr. Mills if charges of corruption had been presented to the district attorney.

"I believe they have been committed," he said. "But it is difficult to bring them home to any one, or to establish the guilt of any one."

"The district attorney, Mr. Phipps and others have written repeatedly to the Roosevelt people asking them to

MAJOR GENERAL WOOD
INSPECTS AT SPOKANE
Says One of Three Great Army Centers To Be Located on Puget Sound

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 7.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, inspected today the station of Fort George Wright near Spokane. He will leave for Seattle tonight to inspect Fort Lawton.

After his inspection at Fort George Wright, General Wood said that his trip had as its principal object the personal viewing of the situation on Puget Sound.

"One of the three great centers in the contemplated army plan will be located there," he said. "The plan calls for a heavy garrison there, another at San Francisco, where it is practically assured it will remain in its present location, and perhaps a third near Los Angeles. There will be three more heavy garrisons down the middle West and three along the Atlantic coast, when the system is in full operation. However, troops are not going to be taken out of other posts at once. The execution of the plan is a matter of years, and an gradual abandonment of the one existing in the Northwest will take place."

"The coast artillery situation on the sound is a matter for inspection on this trip, and I will visit Fort Vancouver and departmental headquarters at Vancouver on the Columbia with a view to determining final executive action."

ELECTION TO ANNEX WORK ON PAVILION

ARLINGTON SET FOR 19TH

REPORTED TO BE DEFECTIVE

Take Up Again Project To Re-surface Ten Down Town Blocks

Mayor Gives Gas Company Special Meeting To Consider Warning As To Tearing Up of Streets

Upon a petition presented by W. S. Johnson, the board of trustees last night voted to hold a special election for the annexation of Arlington Heights and Fremont heights Nov. 1 and 2, for the purpose of determining whether or not the city should take up the project of re-surfacing the streets in that district.

At the instance of Theodore Martin, the board passed a resolution of intention to re-surface the following ten downtown business blocks:

On Main street between H and K; on Taylor street between H and K; on Jackson street between H and K; on Broadway street between H and K; on Broadway street between K and L; on Broadway street between L and M; on Broadway street between M and N; on Broadway street between N and O; on Broadway street between O and P; on Broadway street between P and Q.

PROPOSAL CONSIDERED

Protest of property owners was allowed against the paving of a street between Main and Taylor. The arguments advanced by Attorney M. K. Harris were that it is a residential street and the paving is not demanded at this time. The board decided to postpone the paving of this street until the next year.

The maintenance of the streets of the city is a matter of great importance to the citizens of this city. The board of trustees is determined to do its duty in this respect.

Upon complaint of Trustee Jones of poor work by the Gas Company on K street, Mayor Snow said he would take measures to secure better work in re-paving town streets by strict supervision.

STREET WORK

Resolution of intention under new proceedings will be introduced at the adjourned meeting this evening for the widening of Belmont street west of Fortieth.

A complaint had arisen under the old proceedings which makes it impossible to proceed further under them. The complaint grew out of the fact that the work was checked from the district to be widened a strip that was left out with the decision of the report of La Sierra, and which now stands in private ownership.

Granted was the request of property owners on E street between Fresno and Merced to have a street car track with 7-inch pavement, also to curb and gutter. The proposed pavement was 2-inch asphalt concrete on 6-inch base of crushed rock material.

Property owners on E street between Main and Cherry asked for permission under the old contract to pave with 2-inch paving. The board insisted on the specifications calling for a 7-inch asphalt concrete pavement as at H and Taylor because the traffic demands a heavier paving. A protest is consequently expected at the next meeting.

Contractor H. A. Hensen was permitted to lay with new concrete sidewalk on E street and K and O on Kern at the corner of the Mills tower building.

Resolution of intention was ordered for the standard paving, curbing and guttering of Abbey street between Main and Belmont asked for under the act of 1911 by property owners representing 1999 feet of frontage.

Specifications were ordered for the 5-inch asphalt paving under the 3-year bonding act of the city. The block 43 back of the Fresno Hotel.

SEWER DISTRICTS

Plans and profile were adopted for sewer district No. 2 to accommodate block A of Eastern addition in which is also located the city high school. All proceedings in relation to Sewer District No. 2 were continued because of an error in relation to the city right of way.

Granted was the request of all property owners in blocks 8 and 9 of Belmont addition for put in a lateral sewer by private contract.

Contract for sewer in block 1 of Eastern Addition was awarded to E. W. Robinson for $294.75.

The Johnston Investment Company was granted its request to lower city block 310.

These deposits will be applied to the office of the city superintendent of schools, L. L. McNamee, at the high school building. The teacher for the night school has not yet been decided upon and final details have not been settled, pending the enrollment.

Bids for fuel which had been submitted, were decided upon last evening.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICIALLY OPENS WINTER SEASON

Fine Reception Held at the Association Building Last Evening

Musical and Literary Program and Exhibition Drill Staged

The fall and winter season of sport and pleasure at the Fresno Young Men's Christian Association was ushered in last evening by a splendid program of music and games enjoyed by several hundred visitors.

Early in the evening as the guests began to arrive for the opening reception, the entire Y. M. C. A. building was thrown open for inspection. Many members were at hand to conduct the visitors about the quarters, pointing out the many advantages and explaining the uses of various apparatuses.

The gymnasium, the library and reading room, the billiard parlor, the reception hall, the lobby, the office, the dormitories, the club room and the gymnasium were all open to the investigation of the public.

Delicious punch was served at this time to help by far misses from the Y. M. C. A.

At 8 o'clock the crowd filled the social hall to the doors to hear the excellent program which was prepared.

At 9 o'clock the visitors assembled in the gymnasium to witness the fine program of athletic sports which had been arranged. The first event was a basketball contest between a team composed of Fred Goldman and Fred Long and that of Clarence Gebert and Ivan Long. The first-half combination won with a score of 21 to 9.

An interesting basketball game was the next event, played with four minutes in which the Seawards, coached by Ralph Linn, defeated the Golden-Nobles, captained by Fred Long, by a score of 15 to 10.

Nothing but a score of 15 to 10 was the result of the game. The first half was a struggle, but in the second half the Seawards showed their superiority.

INDOOR BASEBALL

The event of the evening was the indoor basketball game of five minutes played between the Glams and the Red Sox for the championship. The Red Sox carried the pennant with a score of 15 to 10.

The visitors departed at the conclusion of the evening events staged in the gymnasium. The season, 1912-1913, of the Y. M. C. A. was officially opened.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICIALLY OPENS WINTER SEASON

Fine Reception Held at the Association Building Last Evening

Musical and Literary Program and Exhibition Drill Staged

The fall and winter season of sport and pleasure at the Fresno Young Men's Christian Association was ushered in last evening by a splendid program of music and games enjoyed by several hundred visitors.

Early in the evening as the guests began to arrive for the opening reception, the entire Y. M. C. A. building was thrown open for inspection. Many members were at hand to conduct the visitors about the quarters, pointing out the many advantages and explaining the uses of various apparatuses.

The gymnasium, the library and reading room, the billiard parlor, the reception hall, the lobby, the office, the dormitories, the club room and the gymnasium were all open to the investigation of the public.

Delicious punch was served at this time to help by far misses from the Y. M. C. A.

At 8 o'clock the crowd filled the social hall to the doors to hear the excellent program which was prepared.

At 9 o'clock the visitors assembled in the gymnasium to witness the fine program of athletic sports which had been arranged. The first event was a basketball contest between a team composed of Fred Goldman and Fred Long and that of Clarence Gebert and Ivan Long. The first-half combination won with a score of 21 to 9.

An interesting basketball game was the next event, played with four minutes in which the Seawards, coached by Ralph Linn, defeated the Golden-Nobles, captained by Fred Long, by a score of 15 to 10.

Nothing but a score of 15 to 10 was the result of the game. The first half was a struggle, but in the second half the Seawards showed their superiority.

INDOOR BASEBALL

The event of the evening was the indoor basketball game of five minutes played between the Glams and the Red Sox for the championship. The Red Sox carried the pennant with a score of 15 to 10.

The visitors departed at the conclusion of the evening events staged in the gymnasium. The season, 1912-1913, of the Y. M. C. A. was officially opened.

BALKAN TENSION IS SLIGHTLY SLACKENED

Powers Decide to Intervene When Arrangements Can Be Made

Ottoman Government Willing to Grant Reforms at 11th Hour

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The tension in the Balkan situation, it is thought tonight at the foreign office and among diplomats, shows a slight slackening. It is a hard fact, however, that the danger from martial enthusiasm remains and will persist as long as a million troops are spoiling for a fight continue under arms.

It is pointed out tonight that Russia and Austria, when really united, can go far in the Balkan states. There appears to be solid ground for the belief that the governments of Turkey, though not necessarily their people, are still amenable to pressure to the powers. The combined ultimatum demanding reforms, under the Balkan states were to have dispatched to Turkey, his now, under the guidance of diplomacy, taken the form of a note which will be sent simultaneously to all the great powers and Turkey.

The Ottoman government which protested that it would not listen to proposals touching on the internal affairs from any source, has itself opened the door to receive the demands the powers intend to make by voluntarily granting the Christian villages a wholesale measure of reform.

The French government thinks that with some extension and an adequate guarantee that the powers themselves will take in hand their accomplishments these reforms ought to satisfy Bulgaria, and it is believed that Serbia, Greece and Montenegro can easily be induced to accept.

In Bulgaria threats are heard that Ferdinand will risk the crown if he shows signs of weakening. He remarked on an occasion previous to the upheaval:

"I shall maintain peace as long as I can without exposing myself to the stab of a knife."

Recognition of the fact that danger threatens the king of Bulgaria is now proving a check on the optimism to which diplomats otherwise would be inclined to give rein.

OILED SURFACE FOR ROEDING PARK ROADS

The Gloom at S. P. Depot To Be Relieved by More Electric Lights

The park commissioners at their monthly meeting yesterday afternoon authorized Commissioner Gundelfinger to negotiate with the contractors building the state highway in this district for the oiled top soil for use in surfacing the sandy roads in the new portion of Roeding Park. Commissioners Dunn and Gundelfinger were also charged with devising a plan for the better illumination of the darkness enveloping Commercial Park. This lighting up of the surroundings, it was argued, would give strangers and arrivals by the S. P. a better impression of the city by night. City Engineer Jensen was also authorized to provide electric lighting in the superintendent's lodge and in the pumping pits at Roeding Park.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Coroner Bean yesterday held an inquest over John Vucovich, who was killed in a cave-in of a mine at Piedra, and the jury brought in a verdict of accidental death and exonerated all parties.

Frank Drontherton of Hanford, reported to the police yesterday that he had been held up and robbed by a man near Minton who he had given a ride. The robber got away with $31.

Chief of Police Jones yesterday swore to four complaints in City Justice Graham's court charging all the men caught recently in Chinatown raids with rambling or being behind barred and barred doors.

Henry Lehman of 436 C Street, was arrested yesterday by Constable Drontherton and charged with stealing wire that the constable had placed under attachment. Lehman denied taking the wire but said he had told his boys to steal the wire.

As it is possible to make arrangements to that effect.

Great Britain signified today her acceptance of the French proposals so that all of the powers now are in accord.

Premier Poincaré immediately communicated Great Britain's acceptance to Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, who then telegraphed to the Russian diplomats credited to the Balkan states, telling them to join their "Austrian" colleagues in a mutual presentation to the Balkan governments of the note agreed upon. This is to be done at the earliest possible moment.

As to the steps to be taken in Constantinople, the ambassadors of France, Great Britain, Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary will there represent to the Ottoman government an identical verbal communication, the terms of which have been agreed upon, but have not been officially announced.

WITNESS SAYS PRICE OF STEEL KEPT DOWN

Also Says That Prices Were Kept From Declining at Other Times

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—Had it not been for meetings of representatives of certain large steel interests held in 1906-07, held for the purpose of maintaining a stability of prices they would have advanced $7 to $10 a ton said William L. King, vice president of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, testifying today in the government's anti-trust suit against the United States Steel Corporation.

At other times, he said, meetings were held to keep prices from going down. Mr. King testified that he had seen evidence of the structural and plain association, made up of six or eight companies controlling 90 per cent of the production, which he declared, apportioned the business of the country on a per centage basis.

The Carnegie Steel company's allotment was about 45 or 50 per cent, said Mr. King. Charles M. Schwab, who testified, took the leadership in the formation of the association. Its formal meetings were discontinued in the fall of 1904, he declared, but every six days thereafter, meetings had been held by those in the steel trade to maintain the "stability of prices."

J. P. Nicholson, a switchman in the Santa Fe yards, in an accident last evening sustained such a badly mangled left foot that amputation was necessary. Dr. A. H. Swenson performed the operation at an early hour this morning, amputating the foot above the ankle.

"The apostles had been arrested and brought into court under the charge that they had killed Jesus Christ, and they were delighted to find out that even rightly understood their plan now the very thing these men were charged with doing is what we desire to do in Fresno during these months. I. e. fill Fresno with our doctrine and bring this man's blood upon the people. If we can do this we will have wrought a splendid work."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The warning of Comptroller Murray that national banks must cease excessive loans based on violation of law, has borne fruit, according to an announcement today by the treasury department.

Letters from the banks responsive to the call of September 4 show that only 326 of a total of 7,307 had granted excessive loans. This is a percentage of 71 of 1 per cent, while the percentage in June was 15.15. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—"He isn't crazy and he never was, he ought to be hanged!" said Mrs. Charles Eugene Greenfield today when asked as to her testimony at the trial of her husband for the murder of her 7-year-old daughter Violet.

Greenfield's trial will begin in the Superior Court tomorrow, and his defense will be insanity. Greenfield cut his little stepdaughter's throat in a rooming house at Venice several weeks ago, and after his capture near San Bernardino said that he and the child had agreed to die together.

The committee, in writing members of the Brotherhood to attend, declared "Your mission is a peaceful one. All weapons must be left at home; no guns or rifles will be tolerated." GOULD'S BAGGAGE FINALLY RELEASED
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Frank J. Gould obtained release today of all of the $400,000 worth of baggage which the customs authorities seized when he and Mrs. Gould and her sisters arrived last Friday from their home in Paris. Under protest, Gould paid $2,341 on the dutiable articles, but the greater part of the valuable jewelry was shown to have been of American purchase or in pawn before being seized by the customs authorities.

Gould will carry to the courts his fight against paying any duty, declaring that he is now exempt as a non-resident and that he intended only to pay a visit to this country.

Collector Loebe, however, believed the millionaire had not given up his residence here. He said he heard that Gould intended to re-open his Fifth avenue home and to this end had equipped his house with servants.

GOLD DUST makes pot and pan spick and span
Pots and pans collect more dirt and grease than any other cooking utensil. The one best way of cleaning them is to use Gold Dust. Gold Dust not only takes off the outer surface, but digs deep after germs and hidden particles, and makes them as spotlessly clean and sanitary as when new.

If you want your pots and pans so bright you can see your face in them—your pots and kettles spotless and germ-proof, use Gold Dust in cleaning. It will do the work, too, in half the time of the ordinary cleanser—and save most of your labor. Gold Dust does the bulk of the work alone; you merely assist it.

KEEPING UP WITH TRENTON

New York, Saturday.—There is a typical "Trenton" man of that city, pointing out to a stranger the paintings on the wall of the council chamber, in the fine marble Municipal Building.

"Yes, I see," replied the stranger. "The pictures on the other side and from workers on the other, it's a Trenton man. 'Don't you see the real smoke?'"

"Certainly. It looks real, too."

"Well, that typifies what has happened in Trenton. It has gone up in smoke. It made more of a fire than all the factories combined. I can tell you."

"What started the fire?"

"Commission government. See all those fine desks arranged in a semi-circle. They were built for councilmen, but there are no councilmen sitting at them. There are no secret sessions. The commissioners sit here and transact business and the public comes in and watches them do it. Citizens occupy the desks that were built for councilmen and sit in the seats formerly occupied by the lobbyists and representatives of special interests."

Trenton has lived through a year of commission government, and much of that time has been a stormy period. There are still occasional squalls, but on the whole there is the calm of general satisfaction, with a glow of growing hope as the eyes of other cities are turned toward Trenton as a possible model for the remaking of other municipal governments.

It is the boast of the commission and its supporters that the city government is better run than ever before. Indeed, the atmosphere of the Municipal Building is that of a big financial institution. System and method are everywhere apparent, and there is a remarkable dearth of persons hanging around who have no definite business of who have just come ment by commission and waged an energetic campaign after his nomination. The result was that he was far ahead of any other candidate when the election was counted.

An effort was made to defeat him for the presidency of the commission and the mayoralty, but he was finally elected by his fellow members and started in at once to take the city government out of the hands of the politicians and the grafting contractors, as he had promised to do in his pre-election speeches. It was his contention that the meetings of the commission should be held in the open.

"That is impossible," he said, "when every one can see what is going on and be heard on any subject that affects the city."

This was flying in the face of precedent, but he had his way and he had his way in so many things that a great host went up that he was a dictator and should be recalled. There is no more talk of that kind, although he still has a few enemies who are still energetically pushing his policies.

Mayor Donnelly is a forceful, aggressive man. He loves the work he is doing and welcomes even the fighting as part of the work.

"We are making Trenton over," he said in a report for the HERALD. "In four years, if we aren't recalled, the town won't know itself. Here it is with every natural advantage and it has been sleeping away without taking advantage of its opportunities. We have paid too much for everything and not had the things that are worth paying for. Now the taxpayer is going to get value for every dollar he pays."

"If you ask whether we are going to reduce the tax rate I cannot promise that we will. But we shall not increase it much, if at all; we may possibly keep it where it is. It must be remembered that we had a legacy of debt and of obligations and encumbrances handed over to us when we came into office. Although we have been in office one year our fiscal year began only the first of last March, and we will not be able to show the things that we are doing until March 1, 1913. However, we are getting a report ready that will show what we have done up to date."

"How are we going about it to make a new Trenton?" Well, here is one thing that we give us a good start. The Pennsylvania railroad had a bill which had been put through the senate and all but through the lower house of Congress that would have been detrimental to the interests of Trenton. It would have been impossible under the old conditions to have presented its passage, but I had a speedy consultation with my associates, took a train to Washington and got the most of the concessions that I demanded.

The bridge that was to have been built by the railroad a mile below the city, thus bottling up our fine harbor, is to be placed at least a mile further away, and the company agrees to replace its old bridges across the canal with ornamental steel structures; to relieve congestion immediately by the erection of a bridge at Prospect street, so as to do away with the danger and inconvenience there; and to open the condemnation proceedings that the city has started to acquire land along the Delaware River for harbor development; to sell to the city various tracts of land along the Assawpung Creek for park purposes, and to give to the city the rights to the bed of this creek.

"Moreover, the Pennsylvania company, now that these matters have been settled, is showing a disposition to co-operate with the city in improvements that will be of mutual advantage. We already have a fine park, and we are going to have a great park system."

Here is another thing the commission is doing for Trenton. It has had one of the worst records in the country for tuberculosis, owing chiefly to the number of persons employed in the putteries, and less has been done than in almost any city of its size in the country. Now we have begun a campaign to minimize this scourge. We fitted up a hospital that had been closed since the days when smallpox was common and equipped it with modern conveniences, put in a corps of doctors and nurses and are especially looking after methods of prevention.

"We have organized a bureau for the consolidation of public charities, which is to be far reaching in its scope, and will save the city thousands of dollars. The Protestant, Roman Catholic and Hebrew charitable organizations are to cooperate and no city and will be extended until applicants for help are passed upon by one of these organizations. There will be a vigorous checking system to prevent the duplication of help and extension of aid to the undeserving.

In the basement of the Municipal Building we have established a well equipped dispensary and we are improving the service of the hospitals and the almshouses. In the latter we have been able to introduce administrative reforms to effect a saving of several thousand dollars and at the same time to give to inmates better food than they ever had before.

"In these days of high cost of living we have been able to afford a direct saving by a proper regulation of weights and measures. The man who was formerly at the head of this department had other occupations and bestowed only a casual hour now and then upon his city job. As a result, outrageous cheating went on in many quarters. Some of this was innocent, but it more or less was carried on at the expense of the consumer. We have in the upper story of this building, a museum of inadequate and imperfect weights and measures that have been confiscated in the last few weeks, since our energetic inspector began to devote all his time to the work."

"Another reform that the commission has instituted is the abolition of one police court. It being found that one police justice with the aid of a clerk can do what two justices and two assistants were formerly required for, and that it was not at all overcrowded now, the institution of heavy fines and long terms of imprisonment having tended greatly to diminish the number of cases formerly brought into this court. Hence, lawlessness and crime are on the decline in Trenton, and we are saving money as well."

"We have put a collector to work to try to get some of the million dollars due the city in back taxes. He has already turned in more than fifty thousand dollars and is going after the rest of it."

"Trenton is going to have water that is fit to drink. We have adopted as a slogan, 'Pure drinking water within a year,' and we are pledged to carry it out. We were seriously threatened with a typhoid epidemic last winter because of the impure water supply and only escaped through the application of typhoid pills to the water. Since then we have continued to treat the water chemically. Now we are to have the most approved filtration plant that can be obtained at a cost of $200,000 under the estimate that had been made before the commission took charge of the city government. We are also to have a system of sewage disposal at a saving of thousands of dollars."

"Now that the Delaware River channel is approaching completion, Trenton will soon be a seaport town. Modern municipal docks are to be constructed and in a short time the city will be equipped with modern water facilities."

"In our effort to make a fine city we have the volunteer assistance of able engineers, and when the scheme has been further developed we shall endeavor to enlist the aid of expert civil and mechanical engineers in working it out. We have already taken steps toward removing unsightly telephone and telegraph poles and putting wires underground. Street signs have been put up, and all parts of the city are being better lighted."

"How can there be opportunities for graft when everything is being done in an open and above board fashion? Besides, the initiative, referendum and recall are great safeguards. I admit that I have the recall in mind whenever I take an important step. I think it is a good thing to have hanging over the head of an official."

"Yes, I am more firmly convinced than ever that government by commission is the only way out for life modern city. Just think what it would have meant to New York to have had an administration conducted on business principles during the last fifty years! Can you estimate what the saving would have been?"

Mr. Donnelly's distinctive province is Public Affairs, and he is a kind of advisor to each of the other commissioners. The other four departments of the city government are those of Revenue and Finance, Public Safety, Streets and Public Improvements, and Parks and Public Property. The heads of each of these departments had had experience along the lines that he is working on now before he was elected a commissioner. The inevitable friction of the early months of the commission has disappeared and the members are now working harmoniously, each striving to make a record in his department.

There was at one time a movement to recall three of the Commissioners, this arising among the Germans, who thought that the commission was not sufficiently liberal. The leaders of the movement, however, desisted without formulating their objections, having been advised that their grievance would not constitute a legal charge against the commissioners in question.

Since Trenton started its experiment several other New Jersey towns and cities have adopted the system, but the capital city is still the one that the East is watching to see if commission government will work.

FRENCH ARE SERIOUS ABOUT THEIR INCOMES

The Frenchman takes nothing seriously all the time but his income. That is his all-absorbing passion. Once gratified—and his ambitions are generally modest—he will give his attention to government, to pleasure, to life in all its other phases. The thrift of the French is proverbial. Out of $25,418 estates from which the state collected death dues in 1910, about ninety-six per cent were less than $10,000 each, and average value of them all was $3,000. The statement is made with considerable truth that no one in France spends more than four-fifths of his or her income, while in the United States the average is one-half.

The Frenchman is a saver. He intends to accumulate either enough that he may not need to labor or that his children may begin where he left off. It may be counted as a heresy to say it, but it is nevertheless true that from this saving mania have come some of the greatest evils which afflict France today, and it is one of the most urgent reasons for her stationary population.

Small as the pace in the march of general industry and commercial progress of the great nations, France, at one time, was the greatest of all the western powers. Today she follows where others lead. Still a great and wonderful people, possessing a influence upon the whole world which must not be underestimated, her proud position as first was long ago. More recently her people have sacrificed their opportunity for industrial leadership upon the altar of so-called thrift and financial safety, which was a deriding reaction from the extravagance of a century ago.

The socialist may suggest that it is an ideal condition for a people, each with enough, no one with too much. Carried out to a completed evolution, it would mean, however, that France would become a vast community of starving beggars, greedy for increasing interest and fearful of increasing output.

The desire to save and live upon the interest of savings is not a new development. It has existed for many generations. Many decades ago it was the vitality of France. One of its advantages to Germany was the prompt payment of the five millions of indemnity after the war, but none who pledged of that tribute lost a farthing. The nation carries the burden to this day to the extent of a thirty-three billion franc national debt, the most appalling responsibility of its kind the world has ever seen, and with little or no prospect of its being lessened. The payment of this indemnity was an example of what France could do—an example which, owing to its dramatic features, attracted the attention of the world.

ATTORNEY REFUSES PLANING TEN STORY CLASS A BUILDING TO FOIST DECEIT UPON COURT

E. A. Williams Moves To Expunge Injunction Case From Record

Deceived by Chinese Gamblers, Takes Manly Position Before Court

Attorney A. E. Williams, brother of State Superintendent of Banks W. D. Williams, is the first lawyer in Fresno to have had his professional integrity above his professional retainer.

He established the honorable precedent yesterday of going publicly into court and having expunged from the records application for injunction to a place that subsequently turned out to be a gambling joint.

Williams was indignant when he appeared before Judge Austin because his Chinese clients had falsified the facts to him and made him appear in a false light before the court in the time for an injunction against the chief of police to forbid him in his raids to molest and annoy Charley Kee and Kan Chong, who claimed that their premises to 1065 G street were used as a private domicile and not ever for the purposes of gambling.

The case is the one in which when the complaint was filed only an order was granted to show cause on a certain day why a restraining order should not be issued, the order itself being refused by Judge Austin at the time by striking a reference to it from the court's order.

Attorney Williams also informed the court that on the day after the filing of the complaint the place was raided, arrests made for gambling and two of the accused had been pleaded guilty. Williams had been imposed upon as to the facts, Attorney Williams as the attorney of record asked the court for the dismissal of the cause, saying that he took this course without having consulted his clients about the matter and on his own responsibility in justice to himself in disapproval of such practice.

OAKLANDERS FIGHT ANNEXATION TO SAN FRANCISCO

Urge Interior Voters to Oppose Amendment Number 6

Argue Would Enable Two Big Cities To Dominate the Whole State

Before a full-sized audience last night at 2 W. Higgins and 1534 G street, the Oakland Citizens' League gave reasons why voters should oppose constitutional amendment No. 6, authorizing annexation across county lines. At the close of the addresses, circulars in opposition to the amendment were distributed.

W. W. Latham, president of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce, presided and Dave Newman, T. E. Collins and William Robertson occupied seats on the platform.

The chief argument advanced was that the proposed amendment was a selfish scheme originated in San Francisco, seeking more bonding territory, and additional waterfrontage. This was pointed out as unfair to the east and north bay cities and towns, which have their own local pride and want to work out their own salvation.

While the proposed amendment provides for a vote of the annexed territory, it requires only a majority vote and would enable San Francisco to harass the trans-bay towns with elections until in sheer desperation they would give in, said the Oaklanders.

It was asserted that San Francisco is now bonded to the hilt, and the positive bond issues make it necessary to acquire more bonding territory. Among the prospective bond issues are $38,500,000 to purchase Spring Valley and some $26,000,000 for harbor improvements.

It was pointed out that the proposed constitutional amendment, being applicable only to cities having a population of 350,000, would apply only to San Francisco and Los Angeles. By making a political combination, these two large cities would be able with only two more votes to control the Legislature, to absolutely dominate the Legislature.

Special stress was laid on the fact that if the amendment should carry, it would be beyond the power of the Supreme Court to review it or of the governor to veto it.

Mr. Phillips emphasized that San Francisco seeks to secure the proposed amendment, to secure an absolute monopoly of the commerce of the bay, the entrance to which is the Golden Gate, to the disadvantage of the interior of the State, by getting control of the local miles of Oakland's available waterfrontage, 1 mile at Emeryville; Berkeley, 2 1/2 miles; Albany, 1 mile; Richmond, 28 miles; Alameda, 8 miles; Marin County, 28 miles; San Mateo County, 38 miles, and a gift from the State of seven miles of its own waterfront which has cost the consumers and taxpayers of California many millions of dollars to develop, and for which the State is now bonded over $10,000,000 to further improve. Such a monopoly of practically all of the available waterfront of both shores of the bay would retard harbor improvement, particularly at Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Richmond, and defeat or delay the construction of modern docks and wharves, while making it possible for adverse interests to throttle competition in ocean commerce. This would be to the serious disadvantage of consumers and producers in a large part of California, and might practically deny to the people the benefits of the completion of the Panama Canal.

BUT ONE HERD IN MILKING CONTEST

Produces 33,318 Pounds of Butter Fat in Five Days Allowed

There was but one herd to compete for the million prize, offered by the Fresno Agricultural Association, at the fair last week, and as a consequence but one prize will be awarded for a herd and one for the best cow. The herd entered belonged to Miller and Thornton. The three cows gave 33,318 pounds of butter fat in the five day contest. This was only slightly under the record made at Sacramento and was much better than the record made here last year.

Martha Goldbrock was the winning cow, giving 11,758 pounds of butter fat. Cremonella Promise Johann was second, giving 11,323 pounds and Zemla Cleobille Fecto Landis second was third, with 10,237 pounds. A fourth cow, Daisy Goldbrock Hartog, gave 9,154 pounds of butter fat.

The winning cow gave more than 300 pounds of milk in the week.

The total receipts for the Fresno fair this year will probably be in the neighborhood of $22,000, according to an estimate made yesterday by C. L. Pulliam, the secretary. No idea can be given of the expenses but Pulliam said he was confident that the association would have a good balance. Accurate figures on the receipts and expenditures will not be available for a week or ten days.

SHARON TO TAKE NEWLANDS' SEAT

RENO, Oct. 7.—That Senator Francis J. Newlands has planned to surrender his United States Senatorship to William Sharon, his nephew-in-law, and a member of the Sharon family whose wealth was drawn from the Comstock mines, is the report being circulated in this state and has caused a decided sensation.

It is claimed that Newlands entered into a compact whereby he would receive at the hands of Woodrow Wilson, in the event of his election, the appointment to a responsible foreign post, that he would allow the Nevada legislature of January, 1913, to name his successor, provided they would appoint William Sharon, whose real residence is given as Piedmont, Cal., while it is asserted he maintained a casual residence at Virginia New, through his visits to the Comstock mines monthly for the past ten years. It is also asserted that Sharon's family has not been in the state for years.

Senator Newlands is now in Salt Lake City in attendance upon the National Irrigation Congress. Sharon is supposed to be in Piedmont.
